Yuval Marchini

Graduate of the Technological Unit of the Intelligence Corps (8153) experienced in product management and project management
Master's degree student in business administration, looking for the next professional challenge

LinkedIn: Yuval Marchini   054-9748648   yuval.marchini@gmail.com

Efficient, versatile professional with strong organizational, analytical, and interpersonal skills. Experienced in project Product / management, adept at multitasking, and skilled in motivating and leading teams
Has a high-security classification
Hebrew – native , English - fluent

Military Service

2022-Present: Assistant Commander of the Center
The rank of lieutenant colonel of the technological unit of the Intelligence Corps – 8153
 •Prioritizing tasks and defining versions by using confluence
 •Collecting customer requirements through market research and providing a recommendation for a solution
 •Defining indicators and goals for evaluating product quality
 •Monitoring and management of many current data

2018-2022 : Product / Project Manager, Technological Unit of the Intelligence Corps - 8153
 •Planning and construction of work plans for short and long-term operational projects in the unit
 •Management and control of the projects on an ongoing basis from end to end
 •Risk and resource management in a multi-project environment, manage risks and resolve issues that affect release scope and schedule
 •Management of anomalies and identification of critical axes in work plans
 •Proposing solutions and recovery actions to the most senior management levels in the unit
 •Experience in leading many synchronization teams
 •Experience in understanding user and end-customer needs
 •Task synchronization by Agile methodology
 •Implementation, improvement, and optimization of methodologies for short-term projects
 •Using the TOC methodology and having experience in managing projects according to this method

2021: Information systems specialist, temporary position in the technological unit of the Intelligence Corps - 8153
 •Work on the system from the beginning to the end - including design, planning, redefinition of the functions, and writing characterization documents
 •Making an existing system that is not in use useful and accessible

Education
2023-Present: Master's Degree (MBA) Business Administration - specialization in strategic consulting and entrepreneurship - Peres Academic Center
 2020-2022: Bachelor's degree in technology management - Bar-Ilan University

Course
 TOC methodology, Agile methodology, Project Microsoft and Concerto, Confluence, Full control of Office software, Basic experience working with SQL